Proud story to one-stop service shop

IT HAS been 50 years since Neil Fallon started his electrical business, but nothing has changed when it comes to excellent service and reliability.

Now known as Neil T Fallon Services, the business is a one-stop shop for residential and commercial trade services, with fully qualified staff including air-conditioning technicians, electricians, data cabling, plumbers, drainers and gas fitters and more.

The business recently expanded into airconditioning with its purchase of A Approved Air, which has traded for 22 years in Brisbane.

Fallon Services managing director Mark Denning said he was very excited about the new purchase.

"A Approved Air has an excellent reputation as an airconditioning specialist," he said. "Their quality staff and expertise will definitely allow us to enhance our air-conditioning offering."

Mr Denning said he hoped the business would continue to expand the scope of services they provided, but the focus would remain on high-quality professional work.

"Approximately 75 per cent of our work comes from repeat clients and referral even though we have been growing rapidly," he said.

"To continue our growth through client retention and referral, we have to be able to deliver a consistent high quality of service."
